MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT, SBSCAA

It is March and it's Spring Reunion time, again!

The past four Spring Reunions have been well received and moderately attended. Our endeavour is to get the alumni together on the same platform, and pay back to our alma mater in whatever manner one can. In the last few years, the response to our credo has been very encouraging. Meanwhile, we have grown from a small group of 50 to over 4000 members.

Our wish list includes some ambitious projects like a state-of-art auditorium for the college, and a modern, fully equipped sports stadium. As a body, we are also enabling the students by organising seminars, workshops career oriented soft-skills and also assist in finding them suitable placements.

The Alumni Association has in the past, also felicitated fellow alumnus who have made our College proud. We will continue this endeavour to recognize their achievements wherever they are, and honour them.

Besides holding significant positions in different spheres and professions, another noteworthy achievement has been added just recently. Our own alumni of 1976 batch, has been appointed the officiating principal of the college. This is indeed, a very proud moment for all of us.

None of this is possible without each and every one of us coming together, and contributing collectively. I urge you to join our initiatives and help us in making our College shine. I am confident I have your full support, and look forward to your continued participation.
Best wishes.

V. SHEKHAR
(President)

MESSAGE FROM THE PAST PRESIDENT, SBSCAA

Greetings!

As we move ahead in the 21st century, it is imperative for us, the Alumni and the students to retrain and upskill themselves to be relevant in this era of exponential growth.

The Alumni Association is the platform on which both can benefit by attending workshops, seminars and talks conducted by the different subject matter experts in relevant subjects. Even in the past, for example, workshops for members on GST and Emerging Technologies for students have been successfully conducted and attended. The Association is a platform that can build a strong network among the alumni to collaborate, innovate and mentor for mutual beneficial interest of alumni, students and the college.

My appeal to all is to come forward in your respective areas of interest to strengthen our Alumni Association and the College. By contributing relevant ideas and also increasing the corpus in the hands of the Association to implement these. Mentor a class, sponsor a student, offer scholastic scholarships, share your expertise, aid recruitment, assist in career guidance...there's so much you can do!

Contribute generously!!

Best wishes,
Harinderjit Singh

MESSAGE FROM DR. P.K. KHURANA (Former Principal)

I am very pleased to note that SBSC Alumni Association is organizing its annual event, Spring Reunion. This event brings all alumni, teachers, and students together to interact and contribute for the growth of the institution directly and indirectly. So far, the Association has been able to achieve these objectives in modest ways.

The Alumni Association of the College has been very active in mobilizing the old students of the College and has done a commendable job in a short span of eight years of its formation. It is hoped that under the dynamic and visionary leadership of President, Mr. V Shekhar, and with the support of Acting Principal, Dr. Anil Sardana, the Association will soon be among top Alumni Associations of colleges of Delhi University.

I congratulate all members of the Organizing Committee for the commendable initiative to organize Spring Reunion 2019.

I wish the event great success.

Best Regards,
Dr. P.K. Khurana
(Former Principal)

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

I am delighted to learn that the SBSC Alumni Association is organizing its annual event, Spring Reunion. I have been an intrinsic part of the Association and have actively participated in its activities. With recent developments at the college, it has now become imperative for me to play a dual role, one as Alumnus and another as the Principal of the College.

I believe the role of the Alumni is critical in providing corporate support to the college, to improve the quality of the education and also to transform higher education as per the needs of the ever-changing job market. The College looks forward to such partnerships to support scholarship, infrastructure development, innovation, and to create opportunities and employability by developing the skills of the students.

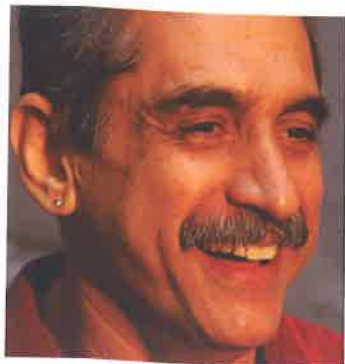

The Alumni Association can also play a vital role in keeping the college abreast of the constant evolution at the workplace, skillset requirements, and demands from different sectors. This would enable the students and placement teams take informed choices and decisions.

I congratulate all members of the Organizing Committee who have been working hard under the leadership of President, Mr. VShekhar. We look forward to working in collaboration with the Alumni Association for the development of the College.

I wish the event a great success.

Best Regards,
Dr. Anil Sardana
Acting Principal

FROM THE EDITOR

Greetings, Basicolans!

Remarkable term this, Basicolans. Coined by the legend himself, Prof. Sydney Rebeiro, way back in the early 1980s. His affectionate way of referring to the sizeable tribe of students, past and present, who had studied at Bhagat Singh College. It definitely deserves a relaunch. Not just the term, but also the myriad pleasant memories associated with it.

Many of us from the Govind Puri era, still refer to the college by its original name, Bhagat Singh College. The prefix Shaheed was added on much later. Interesting days, them. Long bus rides, lots of hustle bustle, tons of stuff going on, in and out of the classrooms. A large number of the students were busy prepping their CA attempts, quite a few even working part time. The rest attended college. Or did they? The management at Paras, Savitri, Chanakya and (Chanakya) Nirulas had quite a different version to narrate.

Flash Forward. The Alumni Association has been growing, and approaching double figures. Initiated nine years ago under the combined guidance of stalwarts like Prof. Rebeiro, Dr. Saxena, Dr. Sardana and Dr. Kapoor it has today, found its own identity and purpose. Its primary charter and single-minded focus centered at providing guidance from a vast experience and knowledge pool for the college and its students. Galvanising funds to assist the college enhance its infrastructure.

Crowning the 'figure of ten' celebrations is the appointment of Dr. Anil Sardana as the officiating Principal of Shaheed Bhagat Singh College! This is the first time in the golden jubilee history of the college that an alumnus has taken over the reins of the college. He has done the entire alumni very, very proud. We wish a fond farewell to Dr. P.K. Khurana, and thank him for his guidance and facilitation.

We make honest attempts to stay abreast of what's happening in your lives, and try reaching out to as many alumni as we can. If you have recently changed your email id, your mobile number, do let us know. If you have joined a new social media platform, tag us please.

Basicolans! Lets keep the flock together, lets help each other grow.

Cheers,

Pankaj Rakesh
(Gen. Secretary)

SHAPING THE Workforce of the Future

We are experiencing a fundamental transformation in the way we work. Automation and 'thinking machines' are replacing human tasks and jobs, and changing the skills that organisations are looking for in their workforce. These momentous changes raise huge organizational and workforce challenges – at a time when business leaders are already wrestling with unprecedented risks, disruption and political and societal upheaval.

With the pace of change accelerating, 'talent' no longer means the same as ten years ago; many of the roles, skills and job titles of tomorrow are unknown to us today. To understanding the future of work we need to consider the impact technology, automation and artificial intelligence (AI) will have on where we work and how we work.

This debate is less about technological innovation and more about the manner in which humans decide to use that technology.

The shape that the workforce of the future takes will be the result of complex, changing and competing forces. Regulations and laws, the governments that impose them, broad trends in consumer, citizen and worker sentiment will all influence the transition toward an automated workplace.

The key questions to address in this regard are:

1. How is the demand for workforce skills changing with automation?
2. How is the job landscape evolving?
3. How can the workforce prepare for the job revolution?

Skills in Demand – 2020 vs 2015

The world of work is changing – and some jobs are changing faster than others. Very soon we'll only be as good as the skills we possess.

Over the next ten to 15 years, the adoption of various elements of the Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR) will transform the workplace as people increasingly interact with smart machines leading to profound shifts across all industries, reshaping production, consumption, transportation and delivery systems.

The World Economic Forum's Future of Jobs study predicts that 5 million jobs will be lost before 2020 as artificial intelligence, robotics, nanotechnology and other socio-economic factors replace the need for human workers. In this regard there is a growing need to reflect on the skill demand for jobs of the future.

Further the study also lists the skills that will be in demand in 2020 as against the skills required in 2015.

in 2020

1. Complex Problem Solving
2. Critical Thinking
3. Creativity
4. People Management
5. Coordinating with Others
6. Emotional Intelligence NEW
7. Judgment and Decision Making
8. Service Orientation
9. Negotiation
10. Cognitive Flexibility NEW

in 2015

1. Complex Problem Solving
2. Coordinating with Others
3. People Management
4. Critical Thinking
5. Negotiation
6. Quality Control
7. Service Orientation
8. Judgment and Decision Making
9. Active Listening
10. Creativity

Proficiency in new technologies is only one part of achieving the desired skills equation. 'Human' skills such as creativity, originality and initiative, critical thinking, persuasion, and negotiation will likewise retain or increase their value, as will attention to detail, resilience, flexibility and complex problem-solving. Emotional intelligence, leadership and social influence as well as service orientation also see an outsized increase in demand relative to their current prominence.

Creativity will become one of the top three skills workers will need. With the avalanche of new products, new technologies and new ways of working, workers are going to have to become more creative in order to benefit from these changes. Robots may help us get to where we want to be faster, but they can't be as creative as humans (yet).

Whereas negotiation and flexibility are high on the list of skills for 2015, in 2020 they will begin to drop from the top 10 as machines, using masses of data, begin to make our decisions for us.

Similarly, active listening, considered a core skill today, will disappear completely from the top 10. Emotional intelligence, which doesn't feature in the top 10 today, will become one of the top skills needed by all.

The human workforce has the intriguing possibility of further developing uniquely human skills that machines cannot match or replicate.

The Evolving Job Landscape

With the skills landscape rapidly evolving, the jobs are becoming more abstract. Today's jobs are vastly different than they were a generation ago. As we spend more time in the virtual digital world, we see more new occupations arising.

But despite the emerging requirement to adapt to the new skill sets and prepare for the job revolution, we continue to measure workforce supply and demand in an archaic manner - via the supply and demand of job titles. This approach will lead to an increasing gap between the emerging jobs and existing skill set.

According to a World Economic Forum report the emerging jobs include data analysts and scientists, AI and Machine learning specialists, software and application developer and big data analysts. The declining jobs include data entry clerks, accounting, bookkeeping and payroll clerks and assembly and factory workers.

"The illiterate of the 21st century will not be those who cannot read and write, but those who cannot learn, unlearn, and relearn."

- Alvin Toffler [American writer, futurist]

Creating the Desired Workforce of the Future

Role of an Individual

Continuous learning lies at the heart of thriving in the context of the Fourth Industrial Revolution. People should proactively steer their own ongoing skills development to equip themselves for the jobs of the future. In other words, recognize the need for ongoing training and shoulder the responsibility for their own education. This will improve their marketability for years to come.

1. Self-evaluate and undergo skill assessment
The workforce needs to conduct a self-evaluation and answer the following questions: Are my skills still in demand? What's the outlook for these skills? And what skills could I work on today that would increase my income potential in the coming years?
2. Make conscious decisions
Don't feel like you have to retrain yourself completely, all at once. As your career progresses, make decisions about which work to take based on how much you will learn.
3. Prioritize jobs where you will learn valuable new skills.

Role of Business & State

Enabling and empowering workers to transform and update their skills is a key concern for businesses and societies across the globe. In this scenario, Companies and government need to cooperate to create a robust and inclusive education and training system. Internship and apprenticeship programmes and vocational training will aid in preparing young people for jobs that don't necessarily require a college degree, but for which industries have specific skills needs.

Closing Thoughts....

Change is happening at breakneck speed. The key is to invest more in enabling the people to reskill to build the workforce for the future. Putting people at the centre and responding to the shift in workforce demands is crucial, because it will be the people who ultimately make the difference for organizations and communities across the globe. In all sense, the ultimate core skill for the future workforce will be 'learnability'.

Spring Reunion 2018

The joy of bidding farewell to winter is aptly personified in the advent of the multi-hued spring. This season and its myriad colours are also of a special significance to the Alumni Association. For the past four years we have chosen this merry, colourfull period to honour and felicitate former teachers and fellow alumni at our Spring Reunion. Each Reunion we have brought something distinctive for the alumni ... music shows, plays, qawaalis, and comedy theatre this evening.

Here are some cherished memories of Spring Reunion 2018.

Annual Dinner

From spring to winter...Each year the Alumni Association hosts a gala dinner. In a departure from the past and to strengthen our bonds with the college, the dinner was held at the college lawns instead of IHC. The dinner is a cool event for the members to bond over shared nostalgia, and wholesome fun. We witnessed a sizeable participation from the alumni and families. During the course of the dinner some of our eminent and successful alumni like Mr. Chander Wadhwa, Ms. Anubha Mathur, Mr. T.S Venkatesh, Mr. Shalendra Goel, Mr. Rajender Sud, and Mr. Praveen Gupta were also felicitated

SEMINARS & Workshops

The Alumni Association has been organizing workshops and seminars for the students at a regular basis. The highlight for last year was an engrossing workshop on Emerging Technologies and how they are changing the placement requisites. Mr. Venkat Iyer, Director Cyber Security Team, PWC and Mr. Praveen Gupta, Associate Director, Intelligent Automation & Transformation, PWC kept the students and alumni enthralled. The presentation was followed by a vibrant Q&A session.

COLLEGE Organises TEDx

The students of the College achieved another admirable milestone earlier this year by holding an enlightening TEDx session.

TEDx was created in the spirit of TED's mission, "ideas worth spreading". It supports independent organisers who would like to create a TED-like event. On their own initiative, a team of 37 students worked tirelessly to procure the requisite license to hold this prestigious event. After much deliberation, the event was held at Patel Chest Institute, Delhi University campus. The session was a resounding success, with distinguished speakers from diverse fields of expertise. Harinderjit Singh, our former president, was also invited to deliver his TEDx talk. Harinder spoke of the advent of the Fourth Industrial Revolution and its impact on our lives.

Arms Wide Open !

Programs and events for students and alumni are made possible by the generosity of the Alumni network – through sponsorships, volunteering and community involvement.

Mentor - No matter where you are in your career, you can reach out and mentor current students. share your accomplishments, expertise and connections to help guide students in their career pursuits.

Recruit - Through Career Services you will have access to a large pool of talented, qualified candidates at all levels of experience.

Successfull alumni like you become an Alumni Ambassador – Showcase your experience and expertise by speaking at various venues. As an Alumni Ambassador you can represent your alma mater at industry tradeshow and events, meet with prospective students at local college fairs, participate in classroom presentations of workshops or serve on a curriculum advisory board of networking event panel.

We look forward to your support through sponsorship, donation* or any kind of financial assistance. Cheque/DD can either be drawn in favour of Shaheed Bhagat Singh College, Alumni Association, New Delhi or paid online as well.
